Second medical opinions from worldwide experts

Difficult medical decisions are easier to make if you can count on expert advice. In partnership with Advance Medical, Bupa has created Expert Opinion, a patient-focused service that offers second medical opinion to Bupa members in Latin America and the Caribbean.

As of May 2011, Bupa members with serious, complex, or chronic diseases will have access to thousands of internationally renowned independent physicians who will review their case, confirm or revise diagnosis, and recommend the best steps for treatment. To request an Expert Opinion, members should send an email to usamed@usamedicalservices.com with their name, medical condition, and specific request. Advance Medical will take care of the rest.

Bupa's partnership with Advance Medical ensures our members' care will be the best in medicine, and will give them the confidence of having an expert opinion when faced with a serious illness. The Expert Opinion brochure in English, Spanish, and Portuguese will be available online by June 1, 2011. For more information, please visit www.bupalatinamerica.com.
